

Multi Festival Radio Hosting

'Sound & Music Solutions for Cultural and Community Events'

So you want to run a community event representing all cultures within your community?

Technicolour is a service managed by 'Homely Planet' and 'Beat N Track'. It is a service aiming to assist development and production of multicultural community events.

Homely Planet is an internet radio network managed by Beyond Skin a charity using the arts to assist cultural relations

Beat N Track is a company experienced in sound system installations and music production

What Does Technicolour provide?

Event hosting & onsite radio recording & broadcasting

Sound System & PA Hire

Cultural bands, musicians & performers

DJ's

Lighting

Staging

Advice regarding sourcing artists (especially representing ethnic backgrounds)

Our Experience?

Beyond Skin has been very active throughout Northern Ireland for 5 yrs involved in many multicultural events and festivals through the management of Northern Ireland's largest multicultural music collective 'The Motion Project'. During this time we seen the problems many communities & groups come across in staging an event, whether it is cost, sound & stage logistics, hosting different cultural acts and marketing.

The key element of 'Technicolour' is within Beyond Skin's remit in promoting cultural relations in Northern Ireland and to ensure that promotion of cultural activities are managed in a respectful and accurate way.

Partnered with the skills and professionalism of Beat 'N' Track, Technicolour will take the pressure off you and make the whole process of your event an enjoyable experience.

"Celebrate locally – Broadcast to the world"

www.homelyplanet.org www.beatntrack.com

homelyplanet@gmail.com

